WORD – FEBRUARY 2026

From the Pastor's Desk — February 2026

Beloved friends in Christ,

As we step into February—a month often associated with love—it feels especially important to reflect on what Christian love looks like in a world that is hurting. Our nation continues to reel from the recent shootings in Minneapolis. Families are grieving. Communities are shaken. And many of our immigrant neighbors—already vulnerable—are feeling even more exposed and uncertain.

Moments like these tests the soul of a nation, but they also test the soul of the church. How will we respond? What voice will we listen to? What lens will we use to understand what is happening around us?

The Voices We Allow to Shape Us

We live in a time when news outlets, social media platforms, and online personalities compete for our attention. Their goal is not always truth. Often, it is outrage, fear, or clicks. In the aftermath of tragedy, misinformation spreads quickly. Conspiracy theories take root. People begin to see enemies where there are none, and suspicion replaces compassion.

As followers of Jesus, we must be vigilant about the voices we allow to shape our hearts. Scripture warns us that not every spirit is trustworthy, and not every message is aligned with the way of Christ. When we let fear-driven narratives guide us, we risk losing sight of the gospel's call to love, mercy, and justice.

Our task is not to interpret the world through the lens of cable news or social media feeds, but through the life and teachings of Jesus Christ.

What Scripture Calls Us To

The Bible speaks clearly about how God's people are to treat those who live among us, especially the foreigner, the outsider, and the vulnerable. In Leviticus 19:33–34, God commands that the foreigner “be treated as your native-born” and loved as ourselves. Deuteronomy 10:18–19 reminds us that God “loves the foreigner residing among you,” and calls us to do the same. Jesus deepens this teaching in Matthew 25:35, saying, “I was a stranger and you welcomed me.”

These passages are not suggestions. They are the shape of Christian discipleship.

A Story of Neighbor-Love

A few years ago, a small-town church—much like ours—learned that a newly arrived immigrant family had lost everything in a house fire. They spoke little English and had no extended family nearby. The congregation didn't know them personally, but they knew enough: here were neighbors in need.

Within hours, people showed up with blankets, clothing, meals, and gift cards. One member offered temporary housing. Another helped navigate paperwork. A retired teacher volunteered to tutor the children. No one asked whether the family “belonged” or whether helping them would be convenient. They simply acted out of love.

Months later, the father stood before the congregation and said, “We came to this country hoping to find safety. We found something even better—people who treated us like family.”

This is what it means to love our neighbor. Not in theory, but in practice. Not only when it is easy, but especially when it is costly.

Our Call in This Moment

In the wake of the violence in Minneapolis, many of our immigrant brothers and sisters are living with renewed fear. As followers of Jesus, we are called to be a counter-testimony to that fear. We are called to be people of refuge, compassion, and courageous love.

And we are called to guard our hearts against the noise of the world—against narratives that divide, distort, or dehumanize. When we let Christ shape our vision, we see people not as threats, but as neighbors. Not as strangers, but as children of God.

A Prayer for Peace

God of mercy and justice,
Hold close all who grieve in Minneapolis and across our nation.
Protect those who feel vulnerable or unseen.
Quiet the voices of fear and falsehood,
and tune our hearts to your truth.
Make us instruments of your peace,
that our lives may reflect the love you have shown to us.
Amen.

A Call to Action

This month, I invite each of us to take one concrete step toward loving our neighbors—especially those who may be immigrants, refugees, or newcomers in our community.

And I invite us to take one big step away from the noise: limit the voices that stir fear, resist the pull of conspiracy theories, and choose instead the steady, compassionate way of Christ.

May we be a church where strangers become neighbors, and neighbors become family.

Grace and peace,
Pastor Toby

HELP! Please!!! Our Furnace Broke Down and It's 5 Degrees Outside

Why does His goodness always surprise us? Today we had a request for help to repair a broken furnace, a cost of $1200 from the repairman. The repairman wanted the payment prior to fixing the furnace. The house was 40 degrees inside and the family did not have the money until later in the month to pay the bill. We prayed and discussed how to best help this family, when somebody remembered someone with a connection to the church who has an HVAC repair business. After consulting with the family and the new repairman, the "hero to the rescue" went out to the house. Long story short, the new repairmen had a relationship with the family (used to work with him), had a furnace motor, and had time to go out. He put in the new motor that he already had and told them they did not owe anything, stating, "Nothing for a friend." The furnace was running, the house was warming, and no money was spent.

ONCE AGAIN, we have to remind ourselves to stop putting boundaries on His love and answering prayers. And remember...God is Good...ALL The Time!

Blessings from the United Methodist Church

When grocery prices continued to rise, and government monetary cuts were being made this year, the United Methodist Church in Indiana was concerned about increasing hunger. They offered local churches grant money to address this increasing need. Great news... we applied, and praise God and Thank You to the United Methodist Church for awarding our church a $5000 Feeding Indiana Care and Share Grant. Kathie Long, Kay Tetzloff, Shantrece Salyer, and Kim Glassley are on the grant committee and want to share with you how the money will be spent.

~Care and Share + Meal Kits (meals for a family of 4 which will include meat, the ingredients, and a recipe in a bag) to make a fast and easy meal. We will start with making 50 meals which will be available to our Care and Share families and food pantry clients upon request. We will need a team of people to help build the meals and to perhaps deliver them.

~Blessing Box expansion-our Blessing Box in front of our church which was made and donated by Sue and Rob Klett is used daily. We will be expanding this space, since this ministry is so successful.

~More Protein~ we know how meat prices have sky-rocketed, so we are providing more meat to the Westville Community Food Pantry and Care & Share families.

HOW CAN YOU HELP??? Please pray for this ministry. Pray for those we are serving, and please consider becoming a volunteer to help with these outreach, sharing projects. A sign-up sheet will be posted on the entryway bulletin board in the Ways to Serve area.

FRAUD ALERT

This Could Be Happening Without You Knowing

Medicare fraud often happens quietly- without warning, without a phone call, and without obvious signs. Many seniors don't realize their Medicare number may be stolen or compromised until fraudulent charges appear. The good news is that there is a simple and effective way to help stop it.

Your Medicare Summary Notice (MSN) is one of the strongest tools you have to protect yourself. Fraudulent companies may use official-sounding names and bill Medicare for services or medical supplies that were never provided. These charges can go unnoticed when only the first page of the MSN is reviewed and everything appears approved.

Medicare urges beneficiaries to carefully review EVERY claim listed, confirming that the provider, service, and dates are familiar. When something doesn't look right and is reported, it helps stop fraud—not only for you, but for others as well.

What to Do:

- Review every page of your Medicare Summary Notice
  - Confirm the provider, service, and dates are correct
  - Question charges for services or supplies you did not receive
- Contact Medicare directly if anything looks unfamiliar

Medicare fraud depends on being unnoticed. Taking a few minutes to review your MSN is more than a personal safeguard—it is a way to protect your identity, your benefits, and the future of Medicare for everyone. Paying attention truly makes a difference.

Prayer:

Lord God, I pray that I will always look to the future knowing You have gone before me. I ask for the grace to be a good steward of the blessings You have given me and for help to live well in order to be a blessing to the generations to come. In Jesus' Name I ask, Amen.

The Lord will open the heavens, the storehouse of His bounty, to send rain on your land in season and to bless all the works of your hands. You will lend to many nations but borrow from none.
